2. A Party shall apply the same level of supervisory oversight and enforcement activities to mutual aid cooperatives as it applies to the supply of like insurance services by other private insurance undertakings. Where a Party's supervisory regime includes proportionality provisions, including possible exemptions for smaller and less complex insurance undertakings, such provisions shall apply to all insurance undertakings, irrespective of their legal form.

3. A Party shall require mutual aid cooperatives to publish an annual financial statement with respect to the supply of insurance services. 1. The regulatory co-operation shall cover the entire area of financial services [JP: except insurance services supplied by mutual aid cooperatives], which shall also include accounting and audit frameworks, unless the Parties specifically agree otherwise.

4. The Parties shall be able, wherever possible, to rely on each other’s rules and supervision. The foregoing shall be without prejudice to each Party’s right to assess, on the basis of its own rules, in particular criteria for reliance, the regulatory and supervisory framework of the other Party with a view to establishing reliance. For the purposes of any such assessment, a Party shall not require that the other Party’s rules and supervision are identical to its own rules and supervision, but shall base its assessment on regulatory outcomes.

5. 7. 8. Any Party may rescind at any time its decision to rely on the regulatory and supervisory framework of the other Party and revert to the application and enforcement of its own rules, where the rules of the other Party are no longer equivalent in outcome, the other Party fails to enforce its rules effectively or there is insufficient co-operation of the other Party in the supervision of financial institutions. The Parties shall consult with each other in an appropriate manner prior to reverting to the application and enforcement of their own rules.
