1. Each Party shall ensure that a major supplier in its territory provides interconnection for the facilities and equipment of suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party
 - (a) at any technically [CR Propose; and economically] [CR propose alt. :¹⁷] feasible point in the major supplier's network;
 - (b) under non-discriminatory terms, conditions (including technical standards and specifications), and rates;
 - (c) of a quality no less favourable than that provided by the major supplier for its own like services, for like services of non-affiliated service suppliers, or for its subsidiaries or other affiliates;
 - (d) in a timely fashion, and on terms and conditions (including technical standards and specifications), and at cost-oriented rates, that are transparent, reasonable, having regard to economic feasibility, and sufficiently unbundled so that the suppliers need not pay for network components or facilities that they do not require for the service to be provided; and
 - (e) on request, at points in addition to the network termination points offered to the majority of users, subject to charges that reflect the cost of construction of necessary additional facilities.
2. Each Party shall ensure that a major supplier in its territory provides suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party the opportunity to interconnect their facilities and equipment with those of the major supplier through:
 - (a) a reference interconnection offer or another standard interconnection offer containing the rates, terms, and conditions that the major supplier offers generally to suppliers of public telecommunications services; or

¹⁷ [CR: For Costa Rica, a major supplier in its territory shall provide interconnection for the facilities and equipment of suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party at any technically and economically feasible point in the major supplier's network]

(b) the terms and conditions of an interconnection agreement in effect.

In addition, each Party shall ensure that suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party have the opportunity to interconnect their facilities and equipment with those of the major supplier through negotiation of a new interconnection agreement.

3. Each Party shall provide a means for suppliers of another Party to obtain the rates, terms, and conditions necessary for interconnection offered by a major supplier. Such means include, at a minimum, ensuring:

(a) the public availability of interconnection agreements in effect between a major supplier in its territory and other suppliers of public telecommunications services in its territory; or

(b) the public availability of rates, term, and conditions for interconnection with a major supplier set by the telecommunications regulatory body [or other competent body];or]

(c) the public availability of a reference interconnection offer.

[AU/KR/MU/NZ propose: Services for which such terms and conditions are made publicly available may not include all interconnection related services offered by a major supplier, as determined by Party under its laws and regulations.]

4. Each Party shall make publicly available the applicable procedures for interconnection negotiations with a major supplier in its territory.

2. [CO/MU/US propose; PK considering: Where a major supplier of international public telecommunications services in the territory of a Party controls cable landing facilities and services for which there are no economically or technically feasible alternatives, the Party shall ensure that the major supplier: [KR propose:¹⁹

(a) permits suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party to:

- (i) use the major supplier's cross-connect links in the submarine cable landing station to connect their equipment to backhaul links and submarine cable capacity of any supplier of telecommunications; and
- (ii) co-locate their transmission and routing equipment used for accessing submarine cable capacity and backhaul links of any supplier of telecommunications in the submarine cable landing station on terms and conditions, and at cost-oriented rates, that are reasonable, transparent, and non-discriminatory; and

²⁰ [MU/US propose: Notwithstanding paragraph (b), a Party may permit a major supplier in its territory to limit access to or use of its submarine cable landing station if capacity at the station is unavailable.]

Article 18: Universal Service

Each Party has the right to define the kind of universal service obligation it wishes to adopt or maintain. Each Party shall administer any universal service obligation that it maintains in a transparent, non-discriminatory, and competitively neutral manner and shall ensure that its universal service obligation is not more burdensome than necessary for the kind of universal service that it has defined.

Article 19: Allocation and Use of Scarce Resources

1. Each Party shall administer its procedures for the allocation and use of scarce telecommunications resources, including frequencies, numbers, and rights-of-way, in an objective, timely, transparent, and non-discriminatory manner.

Spectrum

2. Each Party shall make publicly available the current state of frequency bands allocated [CO/EU/HK/PE oppose; PK considering: and assigned to specific suppliers²¹] but retains the right not to provide detailed identification of frequencies allocated or assigned for specific government uses.
3. When making a spectrum allocation for commercial telecommunication services, each Party shall endeavour to rely on an open and transparent process that considers the overall public interest, including the promotion of competition. Each Party shall endeavour to rely generally on market-based approaches in assigning spectrum for terrestrial commercial telecommunications services. To this end, each Party shall have the authority to use mechanisms such as auctions, where appropriate to assign spectrum for commercial use.
4. For greater certainty, a Party's measures allocating and assigning spectrum and managing frequencies shall not be considered inconsistent with Article I-3 (Market Access). Accordingly, each Party retains the right to establish and apply its spectrum and frequency management policies that may have the effect of limiting the number of suppliers of a public telecommunications service [CR considering: provided it does so in a manner consistent with other provisions of this Agreement]. This includes the ability to allocate frequency bands, taking into account present and future needs, and spectrum availability.

Numbers

5. Each Party shall ensure suppliers of public telecommunications services of another Party established in its territory are afforded access to telephone numbers on a non-discriminatory basis.
6. Each Party shall ensure that suppliers of public telecommunications services in its territory provide number portability, without [HK propose: undue] impairment to quality and reliability [CA/CR/EU/IL/JP/KR/NO/TR/US propose: or convenience], [CR oppose: on a timely basis, and on reasonable and non-discriminatory terms and conditions.²²]

[CHAIR/CO/HK/LI/MU/PK propose; JP considering: Notwithstanding the proceeding sentence, for an [original] Party that, at the time this Agreement is concluded, does not apply number portability to any services or to a particular category of services, this obligation shall apply as of the time that such party determines, [CO/LI/MU/PK oppose: based on periodic review], that it is economically feasible to apply number portability to all services or to all particular category of services.]

[PK considering: number portability means the ability of end-users of public telecommunications services to retain, [CR/MU/TR oppose: at the same location,]the same telephone numbers when switching between the [CR oppose: same category of] [CR propose: similar] suppliers of public telecommunications services;]

2. [AU/CA/CH/CL/CO/EU/HK/IL/IS/KR/LI/JP/MU/MX/NO/NZ/PE/PK/TR/TW propose; US considering: Parties may choose to take steps to enhance transparency and competition with respect to international mobile roaming rates and technological alternatives to roaming services, such as:
 - (a) ensuring that information regarding retail rates is easily accessible to consumers; and
 - (b) minimising impediments to the use of technological alternatives to roaming, whereby consumers visiting the territory of a Party from the territories of other Parties can access telecommunications services using the device of their choice.]
3. [AU/CL/CH/CO/EU/IS/IL/JP/MU/NO/TW propose; PE/TR considering: Each Party shall ensure that retail rates for international mobile roaming services, for voice, data and text messages, are made [AU/CL/CO propose; PE considering: alt publicly available.] [available to consumers of telecommunications service suppliers established in its territory.]
4. [AU/CL/CO/JP/NO/NZ/PE propose; US considering; TR oppose: The Parties recognise that a Party [US propose:, where it has the authority to do so,] may choose to adopt or maintain measures affecting rates or conditions, for wholesale international roaming services with a view to ensuring such rates or conditions are reasonable. Where a Party considers it appropriate, it may cooperate on and implement mechanisms with other Parties to facilitate the implementation of such measures, including by entering into arrangements with such Parties.]
5. [AU/CO/CL/JP/MU/NZ propose; TR oppose: If a Party

- (a) chooses to regulate rates or conditions for wholesale international mobile roaming services, and
 - (b) has entered into an arrangement with another Party to reciprocally regulate rates or conditions for wholesale international mobile roaming services for suppliers of the two Parties, it shall ensure that a supplier of public telecommunications services of that other Party has access to the regulated rates or conditions for wholesale international mobile roaming services for its customers roaming in the territory of the first Party.²³]
6. [AU/CO/CL/JP/MU/NZ propose; TR oppose: A Party that ensures access to regulated rates or conditions for wholesale international mobile roaming services consistent with paragraph 5 shall be deemed to be in compliance with its obligations under XX.XX (e.g., non-discrimination obligations) with respect to international mobile roaming services.]
7. [AU/CL/JP/MU/NZ propose; TR oppose: For greater certainty:
- (a) nothing in this Article shall require a Party to regulate rates or conditions for international mobile roaming services.
 - (b) no Party may, solely on the basis of any obligations owed to it by the regulating Party under a most-favoured-nation provision, or under a telecommunications-specific non-discrimination provision, in any existing international trade agreement, seek or obtain for its suppliers access to regulated rates or conditions for wholesale international mobile roaming services that is provided under this Article.]

²³ [AU/CL/JP propose: For greater certainty, access under paragraph 5 to the rates or conditions regulated by one Party shall be available to a supplier of another Party only if such regulated rates or conditions are reasonably comparable to those reciprocally regulated under the arrangement referred to in sub-paragraph (b). The telecommunications regulatory body of the first Party shall, in the case of a disagreement, determine whether the rates or conditions are reasonably comparable.]

Article 21: International Standards and Organisations

The Parties recognise the importance of international standards for global compatibility and interoperability of telecommunications networks or services and undertake to promote those standards through the work of relevant international bodies including the International Telecommunication Union and the International Organisation for Standardisation.

[CH/CO propose alt.:

Parties recognise the importance of exchanging information relating to the implementation of this Annex, and other aspects related to telecommunications services. in order to promote the expansion and liberalisation of trade in this sector. To this end, the Parties will endeavour to answer arising queries presented through the Contact Points (as established in Transparency Art. 6.a.) related to issues concerning the development of the sector, which may include:

- (a) technological developments and research in the area of telecommunications services;
